

Sexual Perversions

The most well known are mentioned below:

Fetishism

Getting sexual arousal and pleasure from an article of clothing of the opposite sex.

Sadism

A person enjoys sex only when inflicting pain on the partner.

Masochism

When, one enjoys sex only when inflicted with pain by the partner.

Lesbianism

Females enjoy petting and fondling and living with each other, and not with men. In western countries couples of these females may set up homes and even adopt children.

Paedophilia

Some males are turned on only by children, either male or female or both.

Necrophilia

This implies having sex with dead bodies.

Exhibitionism

This is the tendency in some males to show their genitals to women and children. Usually this seems to suffice in producing sexual exhilaration and intercourse is not attempted, although masturbation may be undertaken afterwards. Of course such people often bear the brunt of ridicule of the society as well as become a victim of the police.

Scatophilia

They are the opposite of exhibitionists. They hide their genitals even from their spouse.

Don Juan Syndrome

Those males, who have an overwhelming desire to pursue a large number of women, although they may not have overpowering sexual needs.

Nymphomania

This term applies to a woman who seeks out many sexual partners or frequent intercourse with one partner.

Man Hating Women

Some women develop an antipathy towards the male sex. Thus they can neither have sex nor marriage.

Women Hating Men

Similarly some males may be averse to the company of all females. Of course they too can't have marriage, family or children.

Voyeurism

Some males get sexual excitement by secretly seeing others naked, semi-naked or having sex. They may also enjoy pornography.
